While the report discusses the defendant's current mental status and competency, it fails to adequately address, as required by the order, "(1) what medication and treatment regimens have been tried, (2) what other medication and treatment regimens are available for the defendant, considering his current condition and diagnosis, and (3) if other medication and treatment regimens are available but have not been tried, the reason for why they have not been tried." FMC Devens shall submit an updated report detailing this information no later than June 18, 2025.
